Shooting suspect in custody; faces murder, weapons charges

Contact: Public Information Officer Tonyia M. McGirt, (803) 436-2737

SUMTER, SC (Dec. 11, 2017) – A local man has turned himself in following a fatal shooting Sunday on Flamingo Road.

Kentwon Savon Thames-Daniels, 22, of 988 Meadowbrook Road, turned himself in to the Sumter Law Enforcement Center earlier this evening without incident.

Police were able to identify Thames-Daniels as the suspect after David Green Bratton was found shot after 2 p.m. Sunday in the 1100 block of Flamingo Road and later died at Palmetto Health Tuomey hospital.

Bratton, 39, last known address of 404 Silver St., and Thames-Daniels were seen arguing before police responded to the shooting call.

Thames-Daniels is being charged with murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. He is booked at the Sumter-Lee Regional Detention Center.

An investigation is continuing.
